

From ob on 02/17/2024: "From woody ridge, we observed a large avalanche across the republic creek drainage (not sure what the peak is called but see the coordinates). I heard it first since it sounded like thunder or a plane, and then saw a huge cloud of snow moving down the mountain across the drainage. We do not know if it was natural or triggered by someone." Photo: B. Huyard

Advisory Region Cooke City Longitude -109.97W Latitude 44.97N

Avalanche Details: Large Natural Avalanche near Republic Creek Cooke City, 2024-02-18